

Psychodramatic Couple Therapy Training Course 2019

Become competent and confident when working with couples.

Four-Day Workshops

Wednesday 29 May – Saturday 1 June

Wednesday 11 – Saturday 14 September

Psychodramatic Couple Therapy

You will learn a robust approach to couple therapy using psychodramatic methods. Learn to help couples connect and work towards their best hopes for their relationship and family. The workshops are experiential. In the training we use psychodramatic methods and principles we also use with the couples.

A Two-year Training Course

This two-year training programme is for health professionals to extend their ability to work effectively with couples. The course design is flexible so you can develop at your pace. Participants will attend a minimum of 12 days (90 hours) of workshops over two years. Training includes workshops, reading, writing, peer practice and supervision. See the Course Outline: psychodrama.org.nz/PCT-Training.pdf

Walter Logeman

The CITP is collaborating with a group of NZ trainers to offer this course. Walter Logeman will be the main trainer. He is a Trainer, Educator and Practitioner (TEP) based in Christchurch. Walter has conducted Working with Couples professional development workshops since 2009.

For more details, fees and enrolment go to:

<https://psychodrama.org.nz/couple-therapy-training-2019/>